More Support Needed.

We are asked to state that the Society is in need of financial support to carry out the important work of prevention of cruelty to the animals not only in the Colony, but which arrive and are shipped away from Hong Kong. For this work and also for work in connection with the Dog's Home, the Society have to pay inspectors, who are doing very useful work, but the Society is to a great extent dependent on voluntary contributions for obtaining funds for these purposes.

All who are interested in animal welfare and who would like to support the Society, are asked to send a donation, for any amount which they feel they can afford, to the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. Donald Black, c/o Messrs. Percy Smith, Beth & Fleming, or to communicate with the Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. D. A. Hutcheon, c/o Messrs. Thomson & Co., York Building.

SHALL I CALL THE DOCTOR?No Hard-and-Fast Rule.

If only there were a hard-and-fast rule to answer this question, what a lot of a busy doctor's time would be saved! And what a lot of anxiety we should be spared trying to decide! No one wants to summon the doctor unnecessarily, and yet often a serious illness might have been averted had medical aid been called in sooner.

When a patient suddenly develops a very high temperature, one naturally sends for a doctor. (It is hardly necessary, is it, to emphasize the importance of having a good clinical thermometer in the house, and knowing how to use it?) But sometimes a person may develop a kind of low fever, with a temperature from 99 degrees to 101 degrees, which doesn't seem very alarming.

If this persists for three days or more, however, a doctor should be sent for. It is usually safe to give an aperient in the meantime. If the patient complains of acute abdominal pain on the right side, with one important exception, high up, send for the doctor immediately, and no matter how necessary it may seem to give an aperient, don't do so, unless the doctor orders it after an examination. Such a pain might indicate peritonitis, in which case an aperient of any kind would be highly dangerous.

In cases of persistent sickness, stop giving any food whatsoever. Let the patient have teaspoonfuls of soda water occasionally, but nothing more solid. Should the trouble persist for thirty-six hours, it is time to get medical advice.

Fainting attacks are seldom serious, and some people are very subject to them. But in the case of anyone not liable to such attacks having a succession of, say, three fainting attacks in fairly quick succession, it is wise to consult a doctor about them.

Never delay in sending for the doctor for throat troubles of any kind; if there is any inflammation, or you can discern spots of any kind in the throat, send for medical aid at once, and in the meantime keep the patient isolated.

To be on the safe side, a doctor should examine thoroughly anyone who has had a bad fall, whether any pain is felt at the time or not. But it is absolutely vital that he should attend at once if there is acute pain in the part injured, or if the limbs seem stiff. Another time at which home nursing is insufficient is when there has been head injury of any kind, but particularly in the case of an open wound or swelling.

Coughs are tiresome and troublesome things, especially in the winter, when it seems impossible to shake them off. But it isn't wise to let a persistent cough go on without attention, trusting that it will disappear when the weather gets warmer. The noisy, "spectacular" kind of cough which calls forth such widespread sympathy isn't likely to be nearly as serious as the little nagging kind of hard cough. Get advice about the latter sort in good time.

Next to a clinical thermometer, scales are very important in deciding when to send for a doctor. Anyone who seems to be getting thin should be weighed accurately and regularly at short intervals. Sometimes the "getting thin" process doesn't mean such a loss of weight as one would expect, and sometimes what is lost one week is regained the next. But when there is a steady decrease in weight, no matter how slight, don't depend on home remedies and fattening foods. Let the doctor decide.

Occasional attacks of nose-bleeding do not warrant cause for alarm. The head should be held back, and the hands kept to the sides, while the feet are immersed in hot water. These remedies should soon cause a cessation of the flow, but if the attack is unduly prolonged, or occurs at frequent intervals, it is always best to consult a doctor.

The small folk are liable to get scratches and even bites from time to time, if they are over-playful with a pet cat or dog. If the animal is your own, and you know it is perfectly healthy, then the wound (in the case of a bite) should be sucked and dressed with iodine. Should there be the very slightest cause for doubt as to the animal's state of health, follow out the above precautions —and send for the doctor straightaway.

Infantile convulsions are rather terrifying things to deal with, though there is often no need for great alarm. The attacks are short; the face turns pallid, the hands are clenched, and the muscles of the face twitch spasmodically, while the body remains rigid. It is always best to send for a doctor immediately, and carry out the following measures while waiting for his arrival: Loosen clothing, and immerse the victim to the neck in water 100 degrees Fahrenheit, while the head is sponged with cold water.

LESSON-SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, June 29th.

The Golden Text was: "When the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me" (John. 15:26).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. And there shall be no more curse; but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it. (Rev. 22:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Bible contains the recipe for all healing. 'The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.' ... The tree is typical of man's divine Principle, which is equal to every emergency, offering full salvation from sin, sickness and death. Sin will submit to Christian Science when, in place of modes and forms, the power of God is understood and demonstrated in the healing of mortals, both mind and body" (p.406).

OBITUARY.

COMMODORE WILLIAM MARSHALL.

The death took place at Southampton, after an illness of six weeks, of Commodore William Marshall, C.B., D.S.O., R.D., R.N.R., of the White Star Line, commander since 1928 of the Majestic. His death took place just at the time the Majestic was leaving the port for New York.

Commodore Marshall had a most distinguished career afloat. Born in Bolton in 1873, he was an old Conway boy. He served his apprenticeship with the White Star Line in the company's sailing ship Copley. Subsequently he served as second and chief officer of the Drumlanrigg, owned at that time by Messrs. Gillison and Chadwick, rejoining the White Star Line in January, 1899. In March, 1908, he reached the rank of chief officer, and in August, 1911, was promoted to command. Soon after the war began he was in command of the Afric in the first Australian convoy; from which the escorting cruiser Sydney was hurriedly despatched to destroy the German raider Emden. He afterwards commanded the Zoraide in the Auxiliary Patrol, and was appointed for special service in 1917. He received the D.S.O. and the rare distinction of a bar for his conspicuous service.

A further honour was conferred on Commodore Marshall in 1925, when he was created a C.B., and in the following year he was appointed aide-de-camp to the King, acting in that capacity when the King opened the new Gladstone Dock in July, 1927. In the same year he was gazetted commodore in the R.N.R.

During his career, Commodore Marshall commanded all the most important liners in the company's fleet, including the Teutonic, Megantic, Cedric, Olympic, and Majestic. His appointment as commodore of the White Star fleet, which entitles the holder to fly a special flag—the house flag edged with white—and to wear distinctive markings of rank, was only conferred upon him in January of this year, the position having lapsed after the retirement in 1924, under the company's age-limit, of Sir Bertram F. Hayes.

Admiral Sir Roger Keys, Commander-in-Chief at Portsmouth, intimated to the widow of Commodore W. Marshall that a destroyer would be placed at her disposal for the Naval burial of Commodore Marshall at sea after the service at Highfield Church, Southampton.

SAILING SHIP TRAINING.

In spite of many forms of opposition it now seems likely that Sir William Garthwaite is going to make a success of his scheme to provide a large new ocean-going sailing vessel to train British navigators. One report says that he has already collected nearly half the sum necessary to make the scheme a sound business proposal. It will be remembered that the sum required was $100,000.

Sir William Garthwaite's appeal to the nation will not be made until April 28, and at the present rate of progress it looks as if the Sea Lion will be launched before it is too late.

NEW "STAR" SHIPS.

INITIAL VISITS TO THIS PORT.

During the week-end, two "Star" vessels paid their first visits to this port; the first to arrive was the Doric Star, which arrived about 8 a.m. on Saturday from Newport and Singapore. She is commanded by Capt. David H. Mills, and has 88 British and seven other European officers and crew.

Registered in London, the Doric Star is 10,440 tons gross and 6,563 tons net, and is owned by the Blue Star Line, Ltd., of London, for whom Messrs. Dodwell and Company are the local agents.

The vessel brought 1,490 tons of general cargo for Hong Kong and 2,500 for through ports; she also carried 10 bags of mail. There were no passengers on board.

The Albion Star. The other vessel is the Albion Star and is owned by the same firm. She arrived from Antwerp at 6.30 a.m. yesterday and has a registered tonnage of 4,908.01 tons. The Albion Star was also registered in London, and while there was no cargo on board for Hong Kong there were 4,200 tons for frozen eggs and 1,500 tons of general cargo for through ports.

The officers and crew total 90, including Capt. C. W. Phillips.

WHITE SEA FISHERIES

TERMS OF ANGLO-SOVIET AGREEMENT.

The temporary Anglo-Soviet Fisheries Agreement, signed in London by Mr. Henderson, the Foreign Secretary, and M. Sokolnikoff, the Soviet Ambassador, has been published as a White Paper (Cmd. 3553, 1d.). The first article of the treaty states that:

(1) The Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics agree that fishing boats registered at the ports of the United Kingdom may fish at a distance of from three to 12 geographical miles from low water mark along the northern coasts of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the islands dependent thereon, and will permit such boats to navigate and anchor in all waters contiguous to the northern coasts of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

(2) As regards bays, the distance of three miles shall be measured from a straight line drawn across the bay in the part nearest the entrance, at the first point where the width does not exceed 10 miles.

(3) As regards the White Sea, fishing operations by fishing boats registered at the ports of the United Kingdom may be carried on to the north of latitude 68° 10' N. outside a distance of three miles from the land.

(4) The waters to which this temporary agreement applies shall be those lying between the meridians of 32° and 48° of east longitude.

The agreement is made without prejudice to the views held by either contracting Government as to the limits in international law of territorial waters, and the British Government adheres, in a protocol, to its view as to the right of British boats to fish in waters to which the agreement does not apply.

The agreement will remain in force until a formal convention is concluded, subject to six months' notice of termination on either side.

NEW HELM ORDERS.

OPPOSED BY MERCANTILE MARINE ASSOCIATION.

Mr. Thomas Scott, secretary of the Mercantile Marine Service Association, addressed a special meeting of the members of the Glasgow branch in the rooms of the association in Glasgow. He discussed the proposed change in the helm orders, and the question of the disposal of obsolete British ships. He condemned the practice of selling the ships to foreign countries, and criticised the policy of the Government giving grants to shipowners to enable them to build new vessels as the present state of the freight market provided no employment for them.

The meeting passed resolutions against the proposed change in the helm orders and Government grant.

OLDEST OFFICER.

DIES IN HAMPSHIRE AT AGE OF 98.

Fleet Engineer William Glasspole, retired, who has died at Waterlooville, near Portsmouth in his 98th year, is believed to have been the oldest officer of the British Navy.

He entered Woolwich Dockyard for training 84 years ago, in 1846, and went through the Crimean War and the Abyssinian campaign, accompanying Lord Napier to Magdala.

He was a shipmate of the late Lord Fisher in the Warrior.

EUROPE'S VISITORS.

13,000 FEWER FIRST-CLASS BOOKINGS.

New York Steamship agents estimate that first-class steamship passengers to Europe since January 1 number almost 13,000 less than those of the corresponding period of 1929, resulting in a decline of at least $4,000,000 in first-class booking receipts.

They declare that this is partially due to business depression, and also to the increased popularity of cabin ships and tourist third-class accommodation on important liners. However, even these classes are not fully occupied except on rush dates. It is expected that steamship conferences in the Autumn will considerably curtail passenger liner sailings.

Mr. G. R. Leib has been appointed by the Admiralty as second grade clerk, Naval Store Department, Hong Kong.

GERMAN SHIPPING REVIVAL.Chief Asset in Restoring Naval Credit.

That the income obtained by German steamship companies through their activities abroad is one of the few productive items which the country makes use of in order to make necessary improvements in its balance sheet is pointed out in a review of the progress of German shipping in 1929 by Mr. C.
Ketten, the shipping economist, of Bremen. There is hardly another branch of industry contributing more to the credit side of the national finance than the German merchant marine.

This fact, he continues, explains why so much stress was placed upon the rebuilding of the merchant fleet as part of the programme of economic reconstruction.
Financial aid advanced by the State as indemnification to the companies for losses inflicted upon them, he asserts, has been capital wisely invested.

"Frequently," he continued, "the question is raised as to how it has been made possible, in the face of absolutely inadequate financial resources, which were further reduced by inflation, to rebuild the German commercial fleet, and whether its rapid growth is justifiable in view of the fact that the commercial tonnage of the world today comprises 68,000,000 tons, according to Lloyd's Register, as compared with 49,000,000 tons before the War and which appears by far too large for the actual needs of world trade.

Demand For Fast Ships.

"To this one may say that in view of the demands of the passenger trade the high-grade steamers with the most modern equipment and the increasing demand of shippers for fast freight-ers, the apparent surplus of world tonnage could not of itself be regarded as a deciding factor in the shipbuilding programme of the German steamship companies.
Furthermore, there are times when the circumstances simply compel action in matters of commerce on the basis of intuitive conception of future possibilities of development rather than pure reason.

"Even though the prospects of future development had appeared in a less favourable light, the German shipowners would have had no other choice than to accommodate the merchant fleet as quickly as possible to the needs of German trade and commerce. Aggression was not part of their policy. They considered it their right to rebuild the liner services which had been disorganised by the world War, but they had no impulse to regard with envy the efforts of foreign competitors to improve their position on the seas in a similar manner.
"For a State depending on export trade, as is the case with Germany, prosperity within her own realm, while calamity abroad spells calamity in Germany. The readiness of German shipowners to co-operate with foreign shipping companies is proved by the fact that as soon as possible after the War they participated in the international shipping conferences which are the regular means of co-operation in the shipping world so far as regular liner service is concerned.

Systematic Improvement.

"Although the German merchant marine thus far has attained only 6 per cent. of the world's tonnage, whereas before the War its share was 12 per cent. and although the reconstruction of the merchant fleet, in spite of the most strenuous efforts, could not keep pace with the recovery of German export trade, German shipping can lay claim to having achieved a remarkable feat in the systematic improvement of the quality of the fleets.

"The average age and dimensions of both passenger and freight ships are very favourable as compared with the fleets of other nations. It must be borne in mind that throughout the world at large speedy and luxuriously equipped passenger ships constitute the most valuable assets of a nation.
The efforts of the North German Lloyd in this direction are worthy

POSTAL AFFAIRS.

With the threat of increased postal charges hanging like the sword of Damocles over the community—already sorely beset by the many other exactions of recent months—it may be of interest to turn to the report of the General Post Office for 1929 for enlightenment as to why this branch of the Public Service should be singled out to add to the already excessive cost of living.

Owing to the notoriously bad practice of unloading over a dozen annual Departmental reports on us in the one week—and an exceptionally heavy Legislative Council week at that—few of these reports can be done adequate justice in the shape of editorial comment. It may be, of course, that by some Departments this may be regarded as an admirable arrangement, tending to cover up any apparent extravagances or any patent weaknesses on which an eagle-eyed critic would naturally pounce. Thus, even in the Postal Department—a public utility in the best sense of the word, from which profits ought always to be subordinated to service—it is revealed that last year the percentage of expenditure to revenue was 45.21. That is the highest percentage in ten years, with the exception of the strike and boycott year of 1925, when it was 45.94. In the three following years the percentages were 37.96, 43.01 and 42.03, respectively. The lowest percentage in the last ten years was in 1923, in which it fell to the astonishing low figure of 12.52.

The explanation for the increase in the percentage last year may be supplied by the fact that on May 1 the whole of the traffic staff, consisting of 71 members, was transferred from the control of the Electrical Engineer, Public Works Department, to the Postmaster-General with the Traffic Superintendent in charge. Thus, under the new arrangement, the Radio Office is responsible for wireless administration and licensing, in addition to traffic and operating staff. Even then, however, whilst it is shown that the revenue from radio services amounted last year to $190,532.92, the actual expenditure is not disclosed in this report. A table of revenue and expenditure is published, but this is confined to the ordinary postal administration, revenue from and expenditure on radio being excluded.

In that table it may be noted that increases of revenue compared with 1921 are shown under sale of postage stamps (over $18,730) and postage from postage frankers ($200); whilst decreases occurred in unpaid postage ($748); commission on money orders and postal notes ($163); and profit on exchange on money orders transactions ($6,431). On the expenditure side increases are shown under carriage of mails—transit payments—($15,011); working expenses ($29,818); cadet service ($835); launches and crews ($882); postal franker (488); private letter boxes ($1,290); and miscellaneous services ($7,556). The only notable decrease is under the heading of senior clerical and accounting staff ($24,067).

As regards the sale of stamps it is noteworthy that this rose from $733,000 in 1927 and $761,000 in 1928 to $780,000 in 1929. Money order transactions, on the other hand, showed a net decrease of $1,038.

If charges for postage stamps are to be increased, it cannot be expected that the revenue will increase in ratio. It is all very well to argue that we have the cheapest postage rates in the Orient; that of itself cannot convert an already overburdened community to enthusiasm over greater outlays for postage stamps. There must be a limit to the community's patience, and increased postage rates may just exhaust that patience.

News in Brief

The conviction of the launch Kwong Chee was fined $5 at the Marine Court this morning for mooring his craft to the Eastern Street Wharf without permission.

Three Chinese, employed as "room boys" at the Shamshuipo Camp were at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning bound over to keep the peace. They admitted a charge of fighting over a gambling debt.

Mr. Gutierrez of 3, Cameron Road, reported to the Police on Saturday that some time during the day some unknown person or persons stole from the backyard of his premises a Centuary water pump valued at $1,100.

In a report made to the Police last night it was stated that two Chinese girls jumped into the harbour off the Naval Yard wall, while the Yaumati Ferry launch Man Chung was making a journey. A stop was made, but the search which ensued was fruitless.

A Chinese life banished from the Colony named Ip Kau-sau was at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning sentenced to twelve months' hard labour and 24 strokes of the birch, for disobeying his banishment order. This was his tenth return.

In carrying out a raid on the third floor of 168 Temple Street, Detective-Sergeant Humphreys burst open a door in the front room and there discovered a married woman and a boy to be in possession of 100 plus lottery tickets. At the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, the woman was fined $25 or three weeks' hard labour, while the lad was cautioned.

Charged before Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith on Saturday with larceny as a servant of jewellery and money worth $329.70, a temporary coolie employed by Mr. J. M. Mason, of 87 Jordan Road, Kowloon, was sentenced to six months' hard labour. The Police record showed that the accused was sentenced to two months' hard labour in January for false pretences.

On Mr. J. J. Hirst, of the Forestry Department, intimating that the defendants were seen in a plantation to have cut brush wood, grass and dead pine, Mr. Whyte-Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning imposed a fine of $5 or seven days' jail on three women. His Worship said: "We don't want to have our hills without any trees on them."

MR. W. E. WILSON.

DEATH OF FORMER POLICE OFFICER.

A SHORT ILLNESS.

The death of Mr. William E. ("Tug") Wilson, formerly of the Hong Kong Police Force, occurred in the Government Civil Hospital yesterday after a very short illness.

Mr. Wilson, who was a native of Sheffield, was a very popular figure both in Police and civilian circles. He retired from the service about two years ago, and would have been 48 years of age on July 22. Mr. Wilson suffered a particularly heavy blow in the loss of his wife just before his retirement.

Joining the Police force on September 2, 1912, after seeing service in the Navy, Mr. Wilson was eventually appointed Sub-Inspector on December 21, 1924, which position he held on his retirement. He had been in Hong Kong since, but was actually arranging to return to Britain at the time of his fatal illness.

Mr. Wilson's younger brother is serving in H.M.S. Somme, which is at present in the North.

The funeral will take place this afternoon, the cortege passing the Monument at about 5 o'clock.

BATHER'S FATE.

DROWNED AT BIG WAVE BAY.

A POOR SWIMMER.

A sad drowning accident occurred on Saturday afternoon at Big Wave Bay, when a Chinese named Lo Kan-tung, aged 29, was carried out to sea, and drowned whilst bathing. He was in the company of a friend, Chan Chong, who is said to be the manager of an export firm, at the time the tragedy occurred.

The victim was a poor swimmer, and in fact it is understood that he could only swim a few strokes. There were a number of bathers on the beach at the time, but they were unable to do anything; the swimmer being carried away by a big wave before he had time to cry out. Dr. Dawson, who was with a launch party, threw out a life belt, which the unfortunate man was unable to seize. After that he was lost to view, and up to an early hour this morning all efforts to recover the body proved fruitless.

It is stated that Mr. Lo was employed in the furniture department of Lane Crawford's.

According to a Police report the fatality occurred at about 5.40 p.m.

CHINA'S CIVIL WAR.

MARSHAL CHIANG SEEKS AID OF MUKDEN RULER.

FINAL STRUGGLE.

Shanghai, Saturday.

In view of the recent victory of the Northerners over the Nanking Government troops, the talk of the formation of a Central Government at Peking, vis-a-vis that at Nanking, again comes to the fore. The difficulty of reconciling the opinion of the Left Wing and the Right Wing of the Kuomintang regarding the legitimacy of the 2nd Executive Committee of the Party still remains, however, the sole obstacle to the solution of all outstanding political problems.

Final Stage of War.

Marshal Chiang Kai-shek is reported again to attempt to enlist the support of General Chang Hsueh-liang, the Manchurian ruler, against the Kuomintang-Shansi coalition. The final stage of the war is beginning to develop and the fate of the Nanking Government depends upon its final success in this struggle. Marshal Chiang, therefore, is determined to make the greatest possible concession to the Manchurian leader if the latter promises to attack the Northern enemy at their rear.

Marshal Chiang has despatched a special delegate to Mukden to approach General Chang and to offer him the following concessions:—

- (1) A supply of $5,000,000 together with a consignment of arms, including a number of tanks and aeroplanes.
- (2) Hopei (Chihli), Shantung and Honan provinces be turned over to Manchuria to control.
- (3) The Manchurian Government be allowed a greater share in the control of finance and diplomatic affairs of the Central Government.

It is reported that if General Chang Hsueh-liang does not accept his offer, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek will probably be compelled to resign.

Desperate Battle Raging.

Peking, Saturday.

A report from Tsinanfu states that Northern officials claim to have captured Tolan and Tsining. Other reports state that the Ma Hung-kwei forces are holding out at Tolan, but are unable to retreat owing to a break in the line at Tawenkw.

General Feng Yu-hsiang has thrown in a further five divisions at Lungai, where a desperate battle is still raging.—Reuter.

Lungai Front.

Shanghai, Yesterday.

A message from Hsuehchowfu states that the official intelligence reports indicate that two Shansi divisions at Lanfeng (on the Lungai railway sector) have withdrawn to Chihli, and the Lungai front at present is defended only by the Kuomintang armies.

The commander of the Second Nationalist Army Corps reports:—"The Kuomintang made a futile effort to break through the left wing of our line on June 27-28. A Kuomintang division on June 27 attacked in the vicinity of Taitang and was repulsed by our artillery, after which several other attempts were made to pierce our line in this sector. Then our left wing launched a counter attack and the Kuomintang rebels were forced to make a precipitous retreat towards Kaifeng. The rebel commander barely escaped with his life, and over two thousand prisoners and a quantity of munitions were seized.—Reuter."

BACHELOR TAX.

SINGLE MAN PENALISED IN GERMANY.

SPINSTERS AS WELL.

Berlin, Saturday.

There are approximately 1,600,000 unemployed persons in Germany, according to Herr Bruening, the Chancellor of the Reichstag to-day that new taxes were urgently needed to cover the cost of the burden, and also to cover the Budget deficit.

The new taxes will include a tax on bachelors and spinsters, yielding 111,000,000 marks; a five per cent. surtax on incomes of over 2400 per annum, yielding 59,000,000 marks; and a non-recurring emergency tax on the salaries of officials, which will yield 135,000,000 marks. Various cuts in the estimates of the different Ministries, it is estimated, will save 200,000,000 marks.—Reuter.

played in the furniture department of Lane Crawford's.

According to a Police report the fatality occurred at about 5.40 p.m.

AT THE STAR.

SALISBURY COMPANY IN "FUNNY FACE."

GRACEFUL DANCING.

"Funny Face" presented by the Salisbury Players at the Star Theatre last night, was principally noticeable for some graceful dancing by Miss Noreen Hamilton in the leading role of Frankie Wynne.

Other members of the company backed her up nobly, which was perhaps just as well, as the score is not one of Gertrude's best, the numbers being complicated, and not over-tuneless.

One does not expect plot in this kind of entertainment, so that Mr. J. Grant Anderson had to work hard to carry the show along. As the gunman's apprentice he was in his element, and evoked a great deal of laughter with the ridiculous situations in which he found himself.

A word of praise is due to the orchestra, which handled the difficult score in finished style.

"Funny Face" will be shown again to-night, and to-morrow the company will present "The Man from Toronto."

"WHEN KNIGHTS WERE BOLD"

DICK BARTY AS THE DEAN.

An important role in "When Knights Were Bold," which is being produced by the Salisbury Co. on Thursday and Friday, having fallen vacant owing to the indisposition of one of the company, Dick Bartly, the popular local entertainer has kindly agreed to fill the breach.

The part, which is that of the Dean, is of no small order and Dick Bartly, who has undertaken it at three days' notice, has no mean task.

Those who have seen and heard this local entertainer, however, will have no doubt but that he will justify the confidence Mr. Salisbury has placed in our local talent.

ACTOR IN CAR CRASH.

SALISBURY PLAYER PICKED UP UNCONSCIOUS.

"PUCKY" APPEARANCE.

Mr. Kenneth Birrell, a member of the Salisbury Company now appearing at the Star Theatre, had an unfortunate experience yesterday evening, when a car in which he was travelling ran over a bank near the 13th milestone at Tsun Wan Tau.

The car was being driven by a friend, a member of the R.A.F., and overran the roadway when trying to pass another machine going in the same direction. Suddenly another car came along in the opposite direction, with the result that Mr. Birrell's vehicle had to take a dangerous swerve, with disastrous results.

The car was badly smashed, and Mr. Birrell was picked up unconscious, and later taken to the Kowloon Hospital. In spite of his doctor's warning, he pluckily played his part at the theatre at night, although it had been feared that he might be suffering from internal injuries.

CUSTOMS TANGLE.

TRANSFER OF CHINWANGTAO SERVICE.

TO CIRCUMVENT YEN.

Nanking, Yesterday.

The Customs administration orders the Customs at Chinwangtao, heretofore under the jurisdiction of the Tientsin Customs, to be immediately transferred and placed under the control of the Shanhaikwan Customs, as a precautionary measure to prevent the Chinwangtao Customs being seized and utilized by Yen Hsi-shan.

The Navy Ministry states that Chang Hsueh-liang has despatched the gunboat Tinghai, belonging to the north-eastern (Manchurian) naval squadron to Chinwangtao to enforce the transfer.—Reuter.

Ten Years Ago

[From the "China Mail" June 30, 1920.]

To-day's dollar is worth 3/8 1/2d.

About a couple of months ago, or perhaps a little more than that, we were voicing the complaints of Peking dwellers about their admittedly deficient water supply. Some of them had to come down town to have a bath. Now we have found out that the P.W.D. has already laid the new pipes which are to remedy the situation. Evidently the P.W.D. people are honest descendants of the guy who did a good deed by stealth, and blushed to find 'em fame. In this instance, P.W.D. stands for "Pipe Water Delivered."

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

LOYALTY TO SCHOOL AND HOUSE.

ESPRIT DE CORPS.

[By "The Matron".]
I have not come across any branch of humanity who are so loyal to what is their own as the public school-boy is to his House. There is not a thing a boy would do for the sake of his House.

He has joined the school, ignorant of this spirit of loyalty, but he soon has the satisfaction of gaining knowledge of the inner machinery of a well organised House. The house-captain has taken him in hand, and a few words from this high official are enough to stir the most inert creature to life, and to inspire the striving for higher things. He realises that the captain of the particular house in question has had no option with regard to introducing the new member to the House, and that it is his duty to give the best possible results.

All schools have their cup for the "Cock House," but not all count work as an eligible factor in the success of the House. The Cup is competed for solely in the realm of sport. To achieve the distinction of carrying off this cup, each member of the House has to push his weight, and a spirit of team work must be predominant to ensure any success in this direction. What better example can the new boy have than his captain, whose sole interest is in the welfare of his house, and who will not be ashamed to coach some new recruit at "Rugger" or to teach a boy to swim? He has everything possible to bring him on in the world of sport, and he makes full use of the opportunity, and represents the House in at least one of the many field activities, and through this early education, he later represents the School itself.

At the last school to which I was posted, the Captain of the House used to post up every day in the central hall, a list dealing with the activities of various sections. In the evening a run was arranged to keep every one fit; a run which lasted half an hour at the most, and kept every one in the pink of condition.

Other activities of a House are numerous and include concerts, orchestras, choirs, photography, theatrical productions, first aid, and physical training. These afford the boy a grand opportunity of learning outside the ordinary study routine. He is being taught with boys of higher forms, he is mixing freely with every one, and, above all, he is learning the team work spirit so essential to the success of his House.

House-masters are prepared to lend aid to the asking and to fall in with the arrangements made either by the captain or the secretary of the House. Boys who find they cannot improve their game under the coaching of senior members, are able to find in their robed seniors a reliable source of information, on which they may freely draw.

So great is this spirit of loyalty that on the occasion of a visit from the boy's parents, I have known a boy refuse to be entertained to a most delightful afternoon and evening's amusement, simply because he had been selected to represent the House in a massed choir competition. His absence would have made little difference to the volume of sound, but that little difference was accounted more important than a splendid outing with his own parents. It is like that in most of the great schools where loyalty to the House and to the School is considered above everything.

A boy is willing to do ridiculous punishments if only he can get off his Saturday afternoon imposition, in order to play for the House. He is glad to do extra work out of school hours to be able to attend the theatrical rehearsal and to arrive, often beyond his depth, to attain recognition in all departments of the organisation of the House. You cannot beat this spirit; it is a wonderful attribute to a Public School training.

ROUND THE CINEMAS

MEMORIES OF THE "OLD SOUTH."

TALENTED CAST.

Joseph Schildkraut, very rightly described as one of the screen's foremost romantic actors, has a part that suits him admirably in "The Mississippi Gambler," which is showing to-day at the Queen's. This picture, with its rather negative title, came to the theatre without any great flourish of trumpets, but is possibly one of the best screened there for some little time.

The period is the traditional—or is it legendary?—"Old South" and the story is more or less on accepted lines, as the title might imply. But the producer has been very happy in his casting, and with Miss Joan Bennett backing up the star in accomplished manner, the film makes most acceptable entertainment. Incidentally, some of the camera "shots," especially those on the river, are unusually beautiful. The whole picture is handled in a restrained manner, and the enunciation of the players is very clear.

The principal film redeems the shortcomings of one or two comedy pictures which precede it. There must surely be a great future for the man who can produce a really funny short screen comedy, talkie or otherwise.

"HELL'S HEROES."

Six weeks were spent in the great Mojave Desert by the Universal company filming "Hell's Heroes," the thrilling all-talking drama of human nature coming to the Queen's Theatre to-morrow.

The desert journey was made to obtain authentic locations for the stirring scenes in the picture, which is based on Peter B. Kyne's famous story, "Three Godfathers."

The notable cast includes Charles Bickford, Raymond Hatton, Fred Kohler, Fritz Ridgeway, Maria Alba, Joe de la Cruz, Buck Connors, and Walter James.

The picture was directed by William Wyler. Tom Reed prepared the story for the screen.

"SWEETIE."

It's here! We've waited for a long time for this very sort of jazzed-up amusement—and now, at last, it's here under the very apt title of "Sweetie."

Here is everything—or rather there is everything, for it is showing on the talking screen for a few days run at the Central Theatre.

Everything! Gay songs, "orch" songs, college hymns and jazz tunes; brilliant dialogue; scenes and a credible plot—all this plastered lavishly on a sure enough college-background lattice work. Or perhaps we should say lattice play, for that seems to be the philosophy of the melody-inspired youths and maidens who romp through this superb extravaganza.

Look at the names—Nancy Carroll, Helen Kane, Jack Oakie, William Austin, Stanley Smith. What a cast! The works that make the world go round will spin out two days while only one was produced before, after "Sweetie" gets its hold on the public's pulse.

Nancy is the chorus girl who falls helter to the Pelham boy's "prep" school where William Austin is an eccentric professor of English and where Stanley Smith is a student. Stanley is her boy friend. He would rather stick with the captaincy of dear old Pelham's team than leave school to join Nancy on the stage. When Nancy gets control of the school she does her best to have Stanley "banged out," until somebody makes her see the wonders of real school spirit and she relents with devastating results to the football team of Oglethorpe, the rival school. Helen Kane is a student at a girl's school near by. Jack Oakie is "Tap-Tap" Thompson, friend of Nancy, who enrolls in the Pelham classes when he finds out it is so much fun. This picture will furnish amusement in abundance.

"JEWELS OF DESIRE."

The programme which is being presented at the Majestic Theatre to-day for the last time, comprises a Pathé pictorial, a Peep into Spain, a Comedy, and a Metropolitan film "Jewels of Desire" in which are starred John Bowers and Pricilla Dean. The film is exciting, and the scenery is altogether pretty.

EUROPEAN FEDERATION.

Paris, Yesterday. The first Government to reply to M. Briand's suggestion for a European Federation is Spain. The Spanish Government, however, is in the plan with the stipulation that the extra-European and Communist nations must not be included. Reuter.

SECRET ORDER.

DESTROYER LEAVES FOR RUSSIAN WATERS.

FEUD WITH SOVIET.

Tokyo, Saturday. A comparatively small incident has led to strained relations between Japan and the Soviet, which have culminated in the despatch of a Japanese destroyer to Russian waters.

The story of the controversy is revealed in the Tokyo newspapers, which publish reports from Hakodate and Sapporo partially confirming the official account. The reports indicate that the long continued bickering between Japanese fishermen and the Soviet authorities in the Kamchatka Waters has reached a critical stage.

Fired Without Warning. It is reported that on May 25 a Soviet patrol boat fired without the slightest warning on a Japanese "crab" (canning boat), the Mikuni Maru, No. 2, off West Kamchatka. The explosion killed two Japanese fishermen and the officers of the patrol boat boarded the vessel and arrested the members of the crew, including the captain. They are still under detention.

It now transpires that the Japanese destroyer Matsukaze left Ominato, the destroyer base, on June 25 with secret orders. It is believed that she is en route to Kamchatka.—Reuter.

TEST MATCH.

MAGNIFICENT AUSTRALIAN OFFENSIVE.

SUCCESSIVE CENTURY.

London, Saturday.

In fine weather and on a perfect pitch, J. C. White and Duckworth continued England's innings. The last wicket stand provided a valuable 38 runs before Duckworth fell to a catch at the wicket off Wall's bowling. J. C. White scored 23 not out of the 38 runs put on for the last wicket in half an hour. Duckworth batted steadily for a useful contribution of 18. The England innings thus closed for 425 runs, scored in six hours and five minutes. Fairfax was the most successful bowler, claiming 4 wickets for 101 runs. Grimmett did not do so well as in the first Test, his two wickets costing over 52 runs apiece.

Twenty thousand people saw Woodfull and Ponsford open the Australian innings against the bowling of Allen and Tate. Woodfull showed extreme caution, whilst Ponsford supplied a pleasing contrast. At the luncheon interval the score was 96-0. Woodfull scoring 35 and Ponsford 59.

Total (for 2 wickets) ... 404
The feature of the opening of the innings was the enterprise of Ponsford, who, in spite of good fielding and four men in the slips for Allen's bowling, first cut him to the boundary and then drove the next ball for a four, to send up the 50 after 70 minutes' batting. He had to fight hard for his runs against smart fielding but with a neat glide he reached his 50.

Immediately after the teams had been presented to His Majesty, Ponsford was taken in the slips off White's first over. He had batted brilliantly in scoring 81 by splendid strokes all round the wicket, and had helped to add 162 for the first wicket. Amongst his best hits were eight 4's, in an innings that lasted for three hours.

Bradman joined Woodfull and soon began to hit the bowling all over the field; his delightful driving and hooking scoring 50 out of 66 in 45 minutes. Woodfull, running a sharp single, reached his century after four hours' batting. The latter part of his innings was very bright.

At the tea interval the Australians had scored 244 for the loss of Ponsford's wicket. Woodfull being 105 not out and Bradman 54. After Woodfull and Ponsford had tamed the lion's attack, Bradman flogged the bowling all over the field, and hoodwinked the field with powerful driving and beautiful late-cutting, which yielded him seventeen 4's. Woodfull was at last beaten when playing forward to a deceptive ball from Robins, the ball dipping under the bat, and was stumped for 155. His innings lasted five hours and a half, and included nine 4's. On the whole, his batting was stodgy. The second wicket fell at 393.

At the close of play the Australians were 21 runs behind with eight wickets in hand, Bradman being not out 155 and Kippax 7. Reuter.

Woodfull, in scoring a century, drew on terms with Victor Trumper, the holder of the highest number of centuries against England. Don Bradman, in scoring his second successive Test century in England, helped to add 231 runs for the second wicket. This came within four runs of the existing record, of 235 set up in 1926 at Leeds by C. G. Macartney and W. M. Woodfull, who was also a participant in Saturday's big partnership.

little go past him, took the last four games for set and match.

Honda v. Matsuo.

This was a very stolid affair. Honda started off in lackadaisical fashion, and put any amount of shots into the net. He lost the first three games, but eventually pulled up to 8-4. Both players were content to remain on the baseline and wait for each other's mistakes. The game went to 5 all, and Matsuo managed to take the next two for set.

Things improved a little in the second set. Honda became more enterprising and got his famous cross-court drive in proper working order. He scored many aces with it, but lost just as many with careless, less placed shots that found the net. Sagara continued his waiting policy, and the set again went to 5-5. Honda put on a little steam hereabouts, and playing one or two beautifully judged cross drives, he took the set at 7-5.

The third set was on the same lines as the first. Honda did what he was best at, but after a lot of up-tapping across the net, the game was called at 6-2, owing to falling light, each player having won one set.

MEIJI PLAYERS.

SPARKLING TENNIS AT THE K.C.C.

BRAVO, FUJIKURA!

The fine weather, and promise of some keen tennis, attracted a large crowd to the exhibition matches between the Japanese players from Meiji University and local "stars," which were played at the Kowloon Cricket Club courts on Saturday. His Excellency the Governor and Lady Peel were present during the afternoon, as was the Consul-General for Japan, whilst the local Japanese community was very strongly represented.

The programme consisted of two singles and a doubles match. The best match of the day, from a spectator's point of view was undoubtedly that between C. A. L. Rumjahn and T. Fujikura, junior singles champion of Japan. The Japanese boy was evidently quite a favourite with the crowd, and his victory in straight sets 6-4, 6-2, was received with great applause.

Rumjahn is obviously the more experienced player, and at times produced some sparkling shots, but he was not on top form, and the strong driving and fine powers of recovery of Fujikura proved too much for him. Fujikura had not such a variety of strokes as his opponent, but his production was a joy to witness, and he played throughout in most promising style.

Rumjahn's Hard Struggle.

The Rumjahn cousins managed to beat M. Matsuo and S. Sagara, Meiji's leading pair, in the doubles exhibition. The Japanese were obviously nervous to commence with, and the local pair won the first two games in jig-time. Matsuo then began to use some very wily lobs, to the evident discomfort of "S.A.," who misjudged them repeatedly.

Game was called at 5 all, but the Japanese won the next two for the set. The Rumjahns improved later, and took the second set at 6-4. With the Japanese appearing to tire, they put on a spurt and won the third set and match at 6-2.

The last match, between Matsuo and T. Honda, the Hong Kong champion, was frankly disappointing. Neither player showed much enterprise, and the affair developed into a base line duel, with many long and tedious rallies. Matsuo won the first set 7-5, and Honda the second 7-5. The match was left unfinished with the score 6 all in the third set.

The Doubles Match.

Both of the Japanese players were shaky at the start, and Sagara lost his service for the first game, for H. D. Rumjahn to win his to put the cousins 2-0 in front. Matsuo won his service, and "S.A." returned the compliment for the locals to lead three games to one. Sagara was employing a cut service, which did not seem to be working too well, but the Meiji boys improved as the game went on, and by means of some clever lobbing by Matsuo, won three games in a row to take the lead.

"S.A." seemed to be trying to do a little too much, and was frequently at fault with his smashes. The match went to 5 all, when the Japanese won the last two games and set.

The Rumjahns played more steadily in the second set, and led 3-0 only for the Meiji pair to level at 3-3. Thereafter the Indians held the upper hand, and won the set at 6-4.

In the final set, the Meiji players seemed to fall away considerably, and aided by several double faults and loose shots, the Rumjahns went to 5-0, and actually reached match point in the sixth set. "S.A." was over-eager, however, and put a smash into the net, the Japanese winning this and the next game before the Indians could win the set and match.

C. A. L. Rumjahn v. T. Fujikura. C. A. L. Rumjahn v. T. Fujikura. Fujikura, showing a beautiful style, went off like a rocket to win the first three games. Rumjahn then pulled out some clever strokes, and the set went to 4-5 against him. The Meiji boy then exploited a strong forehand drive to win the next game and set.

In the second set Rumjahn was more on his game and, playing in effortless fashion, took the first two games. Fujikura levelled up the score, principally through remarkable "nippiness." Thereafter Rumjahn kept him running all over the court, but the Meiji boy's fine powers of recovery were quite equal to the occasion, and he retrieved many apparent "kills."

Rumjahn wasted several good chances after working nicely for position, and Fujikura, letting very

LAWN BOWLS.

"DOUBLE" FOR TAIKOO R.C. AND C.C.C.

YACHT CLUB'S DEFEAT.

The Craigengower C.C. and the Civil Service C.C., joint leaders in Division I. of the Lawn Bowls League, continued in winning vein on Saturday and accounted for the Kowloon C.C. and the Club de Recreio.

By defeating the Police R.C., as expected, the Taikoo R.C. have improved their position in the table and are now occupying third place. The Kowloon B.G.C., playing away, emerged victorious against the Kowloon Dock R.C.

The Taikoo R.C. and the Kowloon C.C. upset calculations by lowering the colours of the hitherto undefeated C.S.C.C. and K.B.G.C. in Division II. In spite of these reverses, however, the two latter teams are still holding a commanding lead and their chances in the championship race have not been in the least jeopardised.

At King's Park, the Club de Recreio scored a creditable victory over the Yacht Club. The Electric R.C. received a big surprise from the C.C.C. to whom they went under by 34 shots.

"MASITAR, one missee have ling you up when you go out, me no sauee what name but me catchee number." He produces a dirty piece of paper on which is written 24641. Mr. Tupman was in an embarrassing position—he knew so many ladies. He was not the man to spend hours perusing the Telephone Directory, so he spent an uneventful evening waiting for the second call. That was enough for him, he went out the next day and purchased the TELEPHONE HANDBOOK. Now he is able to tell in a few seconds who rang him up.

Contentment shows on the face of Mr. Tupman after his purchase of the Handbook. His note book is the result of a survey of this book. He is genuinely satisfied, and does not regret buying this book of reference.

F.C.C. CONCERT.

GALAXY OF TALENT AT ENTERTAINMENT.

EXCELLENT PROGRAMME.

An enjoyable and well-attended open air concert was held on Saturday in the grounds of the Kowloon Football Club.

The programme was composed of a galaxy of talent and variety. A feature was the appearance in public of the newly formed Hong Kong String Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. F. Mason, A.R.C.O., L.T.C.L.

Mr. D. Aquino opened the programme with two jazz hits, including the Vagabond Lover, and Mr. J. Blackley delighted the audience with a "Wee bit o' Scotch." Mrs. Portallion met with success, while Mr. Dick Barry displayed his gifted abilities as an entertainer, receiving much applause. His impersonations were good, being those of a Frenchman, a cockney, and an American. With "The Demon Song" and "Beware of Maidens" Mr. W. H. Bailey was a "hit." Mr. Jeeves caused much humour with "I don't want to get thin."

The programme throughout was excellent and was carried without a hitch. The other artists who contributed to the success of the concert included Mr. and Mrs. G. McLeod, Mrs. G. R. Leib, and Miss Nellie Field.

The programme was as follows:—

TAIKOO CLUB.

CABARET CONCERT A GREAT SUCCESS.

PLEASANT ARTISTES.

The Taikoo Club are to be congratulated upon the great success of their cabaret concert on Saturday. The ordinary concert has begun to pall upon the public to some extent, and accordingly (so says the most reliable source of information) the Club Secretary put on his thinking cap—and last night's show was the result.

Let it be said at once that if the Secretary keeps on having brain-waves like this we want to be invited every time. A China Mail representative who, after trying the East Gate, was admitted at the West, found himself in one of the prettiest and best-decorated halls he has ever seen in the Colony. In accordance with Taikoo traditions he was made welcome on the spot, so much so that he forgot what time it was—and Taikoo is a very long way from Wyndham Street!

A Discovery!
As to the programme, unquestionably the pleasantest moments of the evening were those when Mrs. E. Snowden Jones sang a few of the immortal British ballads. Her rendition of "The Captive Lark" and "Cherry Ripe" was a thing of effortless artistry, and more than deserved the repeated demands for encores, which were smilingly and unaffectedly given. We have not had the pleasure of hearing this lady sing before—but it is to be hoped that she will accord us many more opportunities to listen. Hong Kong musical circles have an acquisition in Mrs. Snowden Jones. Mrs. Snowden Jones, it must be mentioned, had a most able and sympathetic accompanist in Miss Caroline Bragg, whose skill contributed in no small degree to the singer's success.

Another artist who scored a popular success was Mr. J. J. Cornelius, who sang several ballads with verve and understanding, being most efficiently accompanied by Mrs. Cornelius. On the lighter side, the Kai Tack Follies kept the ball rolling with funny songs and sketches, and, in between the vocal items, the Aeros Band provided music for dancing. The attendance surpassed all expectations, and many of the visitors were heard to express the hope that the Club will arrange other similar functions from time to time.

BUILDING FATALITIES.

Enquiries made at the Government Civil Hospital on Saturday night elicited the information that of the three injured men taken from the scene of the accident at Gloucester House to the hospital, two had succumbed to their injuries. One of them was the man who had concussion, and the other was one of the two who had fallen outside the roadway. The third man, although alive, is in a very serious condition and it is not expected that he will live.

FRANK ALBERTSON

QUEER STORY.

CATTLE MERCHANT AND HIS MONEY.

RUSSIANS AND CHINESE.

Tientsin, June 13.

On Wednesday about 3 p.m., a Chinese cattle merchant named Lu Wen-hui, with the assistance of a constable, took a Russian named Ragotsky to the French Police Station in the Rue de France, Tientsin, and there charged him with having stolen from him the sum of $400 in notes.

Lu's story was that Ragotsky and another Russian came to his house in Lao Si-Kai and discussed with him the question of the sale of some cattle. Saying the extent of the proposed transaction was beyond his competence alone, Lu went out of the room to consult his uncle in connection with the affair, leaving in the room the two Russians and a Chinese who was supposed to be acting as an intermediary in the transaction. When he left the room, said Lu, he left $400 in notes in his desk but when he returned the money had disappeared although the three men were still there.

The French police had their doubts as to the truth of Lu's story and investigations tend to show that the affair arose out of a false money scheme of a sort that is often played in Tientsin. It is believed that Lu Wen-hui gave the two Russians and the Chinese intermediary the sum of $400 on their promising to make it into $800 as they said they had discovered a method of duplicating each note. He then quickly repented of his action and as they refused to return the money, he lodged the complaint with the police. "Not daring to tell the true story of the transaction, he charged Ragotsky with theft."

Lu Wen-hui, Ragotsky and his Russian accomplice, and the alleged Chinese intermediary, a man named Fu-jung, were all arrested by the French Police and yesterday they were sent to the Chinese yamen pending the complete unravelling of the affair.—P. & T. Times.

MEN'S WEAR.

TRADE CHANGES IN THIRTY YEARS.

Recently there was opened in Regent Street the largest shop for men in the British Empire. This new building of Austin Reed's has taken five years to complete and cost $300,000; and it is claimed that it will enable the modern man to dress with greater attention to his comfort and a larger economy of his time than has hitherto been possible.

Some of its features are facilities for ordering goods by wireless from mid-ocean; a barber's shop capable of serving two hundred thousand customers a year; a ballroom corner where men can choose dress clothes; a Red Lacquer Room for tropical outfitting, with a series of panels of Empire, by Mr. Fred Taylor, R.I.; a Louis XIV. Salon in paneled mahogany for shirts; bathrooms and dressing rooms; and a theatre box-office.

The opening of the building coincides with the celebration of Mr. Austin Reed's thirtieth year of business in London. He began in 1900 with a small shop in the City, and he has seen and taken part in many interesting developments. "The whole art of distribution, for example, has grown up in recent years," he said in an interview with a representative of The Observer. "To-day there are carefully organized selling forces and certain principles of salesmanship are studied and worked out, and young men now entering the retail textile trades can attend special classes arranged by the London County Council with the London Employers' Association, offer themselves for examination, and if successful, get a certificate. There was nothing like that thirty years ago, or even twenty years ago."

Speedier Methods. "Perhaps the greatest change in recent years is that which is seen in shop fittings. You remember, no doubt, the old step ladders, which men used laboriously to climb, bringing down bundles and packets of goods just as they had come from the manufacturers, or the wholesaler, and then untying them, the customer having to stand by and wait all the time. All that has been changed. The effort to-day is to speed up business and to save the customer's time."

In Regent Street, for example, if you want to select ties, we can show you thousands of them at a glance. The same with socks and other things. Glass dust-proof cases are fitted and three or four can be shown almost before the customer asks a question. People to-day want to be shown goods quickly, and to have their questions intelligently anticipated. And that is what we are trying to do."

ARMY OFFICERS.

CONDITIONS OF SERVICE IN INDIAN T.F.

OFFICIAL APPROVAL.

Simla, May 30.

The Secretary of State has approved of the proposal that British Officers of the Indian Army may be employed with battalions of the Indian Territorial Force (other than battalions of the University Training Corps and urban units), when embodied for training or service. The total number of officers so employed, excluding permanent adjutant or administrative Commandants, shall not exceed 84. These officers will be seconded and when not actually employed with their territorial force units, will be attached to regular units of the Indian Army as the exigencies of service, may demand from time to time.

The conditions of service for British officers seconded for duty with the Indian Territorial Force will be as follows:—

(a). A three years' tour of duty.
(b). In the event of an officer being found unsuitable for duty with a territorial battalion, he will be returned to duty with his regular unit.

(c). A Company Commander seconded for duty with a territorial battalion will receive the regimental pay and allowances of his regular appointment in extent of his commanding a territorial battalion during the period of its embodiment for training or service command. Pay will be admissible in lieu of his staff pay as a Company Commander.

(d). A Company Officer will receive his regimental pay and allowances except during the period of embodiment when he will receive staff pay as a Company Commander.

(e). Staff pay when available is admissible to an officer officiating in a higher appointment when attached to a regular unit during the non-training period.

(f). No leave will be granted to an officer while the annual training of the territorial battalion with which he is employed is in progress.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE.

According to one of the brighter Sunday papers, members of the peerage are now concentrating on the useful and economical—wedding presents. Thus "a duchess has given a bride a set of saucepans; an earl has given her a hairbrush, and another titled friend has given her a patent egg-boller."

My friends about to marry. Tell me soon and tell me true. What you wish the post to carry. As a gift from me to you. For your added information. I should also like to state. That the note of ostentation. Is distinctly out of date.

Dukes deliver Woolworth dishes. While the Duchess finds her scope.

Is confined to kindest wishes. "With a bar of kitchen soap; From the peerage, feeling pleasant. These are now the gifts that pass.

And the more expensive present. Marks the merely middle-class. So the silver bowl or kettle.

Or the fat and fulsome cheque. Is a blunder that might settle. Like a millstone round your neck.

By a margin nice and wide. I'll avoid such vulgar ramps. Would you rather have a pie dish. Or a two-bob book of stamps? —Lucio.

home from abroad and others often want to do a whole lot of shopping without spending half the day over it. Well, here a man can visit his hatter, his hosier, his shirt-maker, his shoemaker, and his tailor, all under one roof, and well within an hour.

The New Tailoring. "One of the most interesting developments that is taking place in men's wear is what we call the new tailoring. It meets the demand for a more efficient and speedier method of buying clothes. In consequence very largely of the strenuous conditions of modern life there is a very definite change in the attitude of the public towards its tailoring problems. To meet this attitude we are making clothes ready for wear of as good a quality and as good a style as it is possible to make them, and in a range of sizes which enables us to fit ninety per cent of men."

In the old days, and even a few years ago, the people who tail themselves, or this service to-day would not have dreamt of wearing clothes that were made for one person, but then the times are different and the attitude is different."

UNWELCOME VISITOR SENT TO PRISON.

Chinese Found Under European's Bungalow.

In the Police Court, Kuala Lumpur, on June 18, before Mr. G. H. Nash, a Chinese answering to the name of Wong Futt Heng was charged with having been found under the house of Mr. J. L. Sime at Federal Hill on the night of May 31, with intent to commit an offence, or to insult, or to annoy the occupier. The alternative charge preferred was that without a satisfactory excuse the accused wilfully trespassed.

Mr. H. Doel, Court Chief Inspector, who prosecuted, called evidence to the effect that the boy employed in the house was walking in the compound, his employers having gone to the Club, when he saw a Chinese sitting in a squatting position under the house. On the boy approaching the man, the latter rose and began to run away but was caught.

A lady living next door telephoned the police and a European and a police constable arrived and took the accused away.

The accused said that he went to the house in question to look for a friend. The cook of the house had previously had a fight with him and on this occasion slapped him and then raised an alarm. The police arrived later and took him into custody.

His Worship convicted the accused, who admitted three previous convictions against him. He was sentenced to undergo three months' rigorous imprisonment. — Malay Mail.

SMALL FIRE.

EARLY MORNING ALARM.

At about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, an alarm was given to the Central Fire Station that a fire had broken out in a yard immediately behind the Republic Motor Car Co. and China Motor Supply Co., in Des Voeux Road Central.

Two appliances were immediately despatched to the scene, when it was found that a small fire had originated amongst some rubbish in the yard. The blaze was put out with extinguishers.

As the show rooms in question had cars and certain supplies of petrol, the machines were removed as a precautionary measure, by order of the Superintendent of the Fire Brigade.

The actual damage was insignificant.

A Nurse's Dilemma And How She Found The Way Out.

"No woman should remain a nurse after forty, it is too hard a life," said a member of the nursing profession not long ago, and she spoke from long years of personal experience. Yet nurses keep going, despite the long hours, the heavy work, the exacting services they have to perform. How do they do it? Here is the evidence of Nurse W. J. Lyons, and she is but one of thousands of professional nurses all over the world who take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when they get run down and need the tonic help which is so abundantly given by this, the most famous of all blood and nerve restorative remedies.

"I had lost colour and strength," says Nurse Lyons, who resides at No. 137 Broadway, Chicago Falls, Mass., U.S.A. "I had severe headaches and nervous spells, could not get restful sleep and was tired and listless all the time. I was short of breath and lost weight. My condition alarmed my friends. Nothing helped me until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They gave me back my health. My blood was built up, I regained my strength and my colour returned. I can certainly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the system."

"Any doctor can tell you just why it is that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the formula of which was devised by a highly skilled British physician some fifty years ago, have attained that pre-eminence which is theirs to-day as the world's greatest blood and nerve tonic. It is because they know the value of the blood and the nerves in the human body, and the fact that a weak blood and nervous system is the cause of so many of our modern ailments. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic for the blood and nerves, and they are the only tonic of the kind that can be taken without any harmful effects. They are the only tonic that can be taken by the most delicate of women, and they are the only tonic that can be taken by the most robust of men. ACTOR'S DEBT

TROUBLE OVER $1,000
 LOAN.

MANY TRANSFERS!

In the Summary Court this morning, the case was continued in which Ma Tau-nam is suing Sit Kok-seen, a well-known Chinese actor, for the recovery of $1,000, money said to have been lent in January, 1928.

Defendant claims that the loan, which is admitted, is set off in a settlement arrived at between the parties when new proprietors took over the theatrical troupe.

At this morning's proceedings, Mr. F. E. Nash, for defendant, said that his case was closed.

Mr. Hugh-Jones for plaintiff: "Then I submit, my Lord, that defendant has not discharged the onus which it was agreed there was upon him. There is no evidence that the sum claimed has been repaid."

His Lordship (Mr. Justice J. R. Wood) intimated that he was of opinion that the onus had shifted to plaintiff.

Mixed Business.
 Plaintiff was then called into the witness box. He said he made the loan in a club in Hong Kong early in January, 1928. "This was before he took over the theatrical company from the Hip-Wo firm."

He took over a few days later, but Hip Wo retained $7,000 interest in the concern. For the next six months he agreed that he was completing a contract for one year's services arrived at between defendant and Hip Wo.

As regards defendant during this period, he received a payment of $400 each kwan (fortnight). Plaintiff assumed liability for a debt of $13,000 to Chan Wa-kei and $4,000 to Hip Wo. Defendant's salary at this time was $40,000.

Many Creditors.
 The contract ran out in July, 1928. Plaintiff thereupon took over the show, agreeing to pay defendant $45,000 per year. However, $20,000 of this was earmarked to pay creditors, and it was arranged that defendant should be paid $500 per kwan. The show lost money during the next six months, and plaintiff cut down advances to defendant.

Mr. Hugh-Jones then went into the details of the transfer of the troupe to Tai Tung.

The case is proceeding.

AMATEUR TEC.

CHINESE EMULATES SHERLOCK

"I congratulate you on your public spirit in following up this man. He is an old offender."

In these words Mr. R. E. Lindell to-day commended Mr. Wong Kan-cheung, a Chinese clerk living at 83, Leighton Hill Road, who was instrumental in effecting the arrest of an elderly coolie for the unlawful possession of a pair of trousers.

Mr. Wong said that from the door of his house he saw the accused hastily wrapping a pair of trousers in a cloth. His action was suspicious, especially as he appeared to be nervous.

Witness asked what accused was he was doing but the latter replied "Nothing" and walked quickly away. Mr. Wong followed him.

Accused went past Jardine's stables, where he threw the trousers into the bush and then walked up the new Broadway Road. Mr. Wong pretended that he did not notice the move and continued to follow accused up to the hill and then down again to Happy Valley and thence up Morrison Gap Road. Near the Wanchai School Mr. Wong saw a Chinese constable and gave the accused in charge.

They returned to Jardine's stables and retrieved the trousers from the bush.

The Magistrate convicted and, after the Police had proved four previous convictions, passed sentence of six weeks' hard labour.

TRAIN TRAGEDY.

FIFTEEN PERSONS KILLED BY LANDSLIDE.

BURIED ALIVE.

Tokyo, Saturday.
 A terrible train accident occurred to-day fifty miles north-east of Shimonoseki resulting in the deaths of fifteen persons.

The train was passing through a cutting when a tremor caused the steep banks to slide down on to the line. Two coaches were totally buried by the debris and fifteen persons were either suffocated or crushed to death.

According to the railway authorities, there were thirty-six passengers aboard the buried coaches. Twenty-one managed to dig their way out of the landslide and escape without injury.

Three hundred railway coolies were rushed to the scene and feverishly dug away the debris. They were able to recover three bodies. The landslide was due to the heavy rains.—Reuter.

"TEXACO" DEFEATED

Another Disappointment At Caroline Hill.

Baseball in the Colony so far this season has never been up to the standard of last year.

Another disappointing game was registered yesterday at Caroline Hill when the new "Texaco" outfit crossed sticks with the South China crew. Both sides were badly off colour and wild pitching and sagging were the order of the day.

The Texaco outfit was defeated to the tune of 5 to 3 runs in a scrappy game with one casualty. Russell having slipped out of the field in the fifth frame, his knees being twisted out of joint while chasing a fly.
